

XM Radio should be able to broadcast and provide whatever services it feels it's customers will benefit from. There should be no laws that limit how successful XM Radio has become.